College Amendment Is Approved by Voters

Light Vote Is Cast Saturday Over the State

A small per cent of the voters of Texas went to the polls Saturday to vote on the college building amendment to the constitution. The amendment carried by a vote of 95,248 for the amendment to 82,742 against the amendment. This was the last compilation from the Texas Election Bureau. With a lead of 53.1 per cent of the votes cast, the Election Bureau announced that there was no chance for the amendment to be defeated.

Opposition to the amendment centered around Lubbock where the Chamber of Commerce and exes of Texas Tech spent a huge amount of money in the effort to defeat the proposal. Due to the hard campaign waged against the amendment during the last week of the campaign, it is indicated that the majority for the amendment was whittled down to the low point by which it was adopted. Lubbock argued that Tech was not receiving as much money as it was entitled to receive. The argument was also made that this was a new tax and would cost the taxpayers a large amount of money.

A majority of the counties of the state voted against the amendment, although the total vote was very small in all counties. The amendment was saved by the good majorities which were cast for the amendment in the large counties throughout the State.

The following vote was cast in Randall county:

Precinct:	For	Ag.
No. 1	238	49
No. 2	8	6
No. 3	7	1
No. 4	6	3
No. 5	9	2
No. 6	3	1
No. 7	7	1
No. 8	1	12
No. 9	17	23

Donkey Baseball Is Scheduled Between Clubs

The V. F. W. and Canyon Roping Club are sponsoring two Donkey baseball games, 3 p. m. Saturday and Sunday afternoons, September 6-7. The two games will be held at the Canyon Roping Club grounds on the highway south of town.

For those who have not seen a donkey baseball game may be interested to know that all players ride, with the exception of the catcher and pitcher. For example the players bat on the ground and if he fails to hit the ball with a bat in three tries, he is provided with a grain scoop. No player fans out. After hitting the ball, he mounts the donkey and attempts to get around the bases and to home plate. All players in field are on donkeys and must get off and get the ball and mount again and throw from the donkey. There is no telling what the animal will do. He might pitch the runner off several times before he reaches first base, he might lay down, or go like a streak of lightning over the diamond. If he refuses to go, an electric prod pole will be handy. There will be plenty of thrills and spills and you will laugh until your sides hurt.

The admission will be 30c and 60c with tax included. All proceeds go to the V. F. W. and Roping Club Building fund. Tickets will be on sale by all V. F. W. and Roping Club members.

Light Shower Was Received Tuesday With Cool Wave

The only moisture received in Canyon during the past week came in a shower Tuesday noon. This shower amounted to only .16 of an inch.

Cloudy weather has prevailed, with a trace of rain falling Sunday and Monday in brief showers.

A cool wave has been of great benefit to the Panhandle territory following the long heat wave.

A considerable amount of rain has fallen over the North Plains, but has not reached to Canyon or territory to the south.

Farmers are worried about the small row crop in the county and the fact that it is almost time for wheat planting, with no moisture in the ground.

Buffalo Squad Will Report to Coaches Sunday

Fifty Buffalo football candidates are scheduled to arrive in Canyon by Sunday noon to open the fall training period on Monday. Equipment will be issued to the men as soon as they arrive in order to start training the first day.

Co-Captains Dwayne Lyons and Mack Winters will be among the first to arrive, with all of the lettermen of last year to follow during Sunday.

Coaches Frank Kimbrough and Clark Jarnagin are expecting a large number of outstanding high school football stars from this area to supplement the squad of lettermen who will be on hand.

The two new coaches will devote the first few days in getting acquainted with the men of the squad and getting the men in physical condition for the hard season which confronts the Buffaloes.

House Moved Here By Dr. Jas. Russell Burned Friday

Dr. James Russell, member of the college faculty, moved a house here recently from Amarillo. The house was located on lots east of the Dr. J. A. Hill home. Work was in progress remodeling the house.

The building was discovered to be on fire Friday morning about 1 o'clock and practically burned to the ground. There were no clues of how the fire started.

Fortunately Dr. Russell had taken out insurance before starting to move the house. As soon as the loss is adjusted Dr. Russell will make plans to start another house.

Regent Harrell Indicates Plans New Buildings

With the College Building Constitutional Amendment carried as a result of the special election Saturday, friends of West Texas State are interested in the building program which may be started on the campus.

Executive Vice President J. D. Cornette conferred with President J. A. Hill and Newton Harrell, vice president of the Board of Regents, here Tuesday.

Mr. Harrell stated after the conference that the Board had not adopted a building program for the college, awaiting the decision of the election. With the amendment approved, Mr. Harrell stated that the first building on the program would be a President's Home. Dr. Cornette will arrive January 1st to assume his duties as Executive Vice President, and will succeed Dr. J. A. Hill as President on September 1, 1948. It will be necessary to provide a place for Dr. Cornette and his family to live.

Mr. Harrell stated that it was likely that one of the smaller buildings on the campus would be converted into temporary living quarters until a permanent home could be erected.

The library building is the most urgent structure needed on the campus, stated Mr. Harrell. If the Board of Regents decide to start work on the library at this time, bonds will be floated against the income that the college will receive as a result of the amendment. With the high cost of construction and the scarcity of materials, coupled with the fact that interest would be paid on the outstanding bonds, Mr. Harrell was undecided Tuesday what recommendation he would make regarding the library building.

After the library, a large physical education plant, with an adequate gymnasium is the urgent need for the college, stated Mr. Harrell.

Ben Wesley Was Killed Friday In Car Accident

Henry Benjamin Wesley was killed Friday afternoon near Tucumcari when his car overturned. Mr. Wesley and his brother-in-law, S. N. Carruthers, had attended the rodeo at Tucumcari and were on their way home. The Wesley car hit a soft shoulder on the highway. Mr. Carruthers was slightly injured.

Mr. Wesley was born in Potter county on Sept. 11, 1887. He was the first white child born in that county. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wesley, known to all pioneers as Uncle Henry Wesley.

In 1890 Uncle Henry sold his land in Potter county and moved to the southeast part of Randall county where the Wesley home was a part of the pioneer life of this section.

Ben Wesley has resided in Randall county since the time his parents moved here. He engaged in stock-farming throughout the years.

His first wife was the former Elizabeth James, who died during the flu epidemic of 1918. Several years ago he married Miss Vivian Carruthers of Ploydada, who was a teacher at Fairview.

During his young manhood Ben Wesley was known as a rodeo performer, and in later life he always enjoyed watching the performances. He made the trip to Tucumcari for that purpose.

The funeral services were held Sunday at the Baptist Church in Happy, conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Shaw, assisted by Rev. Clint Malone of Tulia. Interment was in the Wayside Cemetery under the direction of Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Surviving is the widow and one son, Woodrow Wesley of Amarillo; four brothers, E. P. Wesley of Canyon, G. E. Wesley and J. W. Wesley of Happy; E. J. Wesley of Coffee Springs, Ala.; one sister, Mrs. Fred Hext of Happy; two grandsons, Clint Roy and Bowie Evans Wesley of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Parker of Boise City, Okla., have been in Canyon for the past week with their six months' old son, Raymond, who underwent major surgery at the Jarrett Clinic.

Bud Parker and daughter returned Friday from a visit with relatives in Missouri.

Grain Dealers Urged to Help Improve Wheat

Frederic T. Dines, recognized authority on wheat, has sent out the following letter to grain dealers throughout the Panhandle urging that a concerted effort be made to improve the quality of wheat which is being planted in this area. The quality has declined so rapidly that Panhandle farmers are being penalized since their wheat will not meet the milling requirements.

The letter follows:
I am writing this letter to you to bring out a few important points in regard to the quality of Texas Panhandle wheat from the 1947 harvest. Most of these points to you as a grain dealer are probably well understood and particularly to those of you in the recognized poor quality wheat producing areas.

Preharvest surveys shows that the North Plains of the Panhandle had 21% of the wheat acreage in Chiefkan and/or Red Chief and the South Plains had 18% of these poor quality varieties. Certain counties were very heavy in the acreage of poor varieties while others had very little of such varieties. The overall figure, however, of poor quality varieties is so high that millers throughout the country are either refusing to purchase Southwestern wheat. As an example, carloads of wheat reaching the Kansas City market from recognized poor quality wheat areas have been known this season to have failed to receive a bid of any kind. Other carloads of poor quality wheat have been taking severe discounts at certain terminal markets. Texas Panhandle wheat has been in the past, a good source of high protein, high quality wheat with a good market demand. This year, in spite of a shortage of high protein wheat, Southwestern wheat, particularly from the recognized poor quality variety producing areas, has not enjoyed a favorable market in comparison to good quality producing areas. Many carloads of Chiefkan-Red Chief wheat even of high protein have either failed to receive ready bids at terminal markets or have suffered severe market discounts per bushel from the price paid for good quality wheat.

As a whole the Southwestern area of Kansas, the Panhandle and western parts of Oklahoma and Texas are suffering from an unfavorable reputation on quality wheat. Texas and Oklahoma mills are being forced to purchase wheat for bakers flour from the recognized high quality wheat producing state of Nebraska and Spring wheat States. Most Chiefkan and/or Red Chief finding its way to mills and terminal elevators is being shipped out of the country. Of course, you can appreciate that this will "kick back" on our area for future export business.

The need for changing over to only good quality varieties has now reached a state of necessity to head off further decline of the Texas wheat quality reputation and further discrimination against Texas wheat.

For the Texas hard red winter wheat producing area, the new varieties of Comanche, Westar, Triumph and Wichita have given satisfactory yields in most cases. These varieties are of acceptable milling and baking characteristics and are recommended by State and Federal Agricultural Experiment Stations. Older varieties such as Kanred, Tenmarq, and Turkey are of very good quality and where they are doing well on the farm are recommended.

Several of the dealers in recognized poor quality wheat variety producing areas are placing effective advertisements in their local papers in order to lend weight to a program of wheat improvement. If you will also encourage your farmer customers through contacts and in newspaper publicity to grow only the recommended good quality varieties of wheat, it is our belief that it will repay you many times over in the long run.

Dr. J. P. Cornette Made First Talk to Citizens

DR. JAMES P. CORNETTE

President-elect Talked Frankly About the Future

Dr. James P. Cornette, new executive vice president of West Texas State and the man selected to succeed President J. A. Hill on September 1, 1948, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon. This was his first public appearance in Canyon since being elected by the Board of Regents several months ago.

Dr. J. A. Hill presented Newton Harrell, member of the Board of Regents of Teachers College, who has performed such a notable service on the board and was largely responsible for the final selection of Dr. Cornette for a place on the faculty.

Dr. Hill referred to Dr. Cornette as a "scholar and a gentleman." He is rich in college training and teaching.

Dr. Cornette is a man of mild appearance, with a rich, forceful voice, and a pleasing personality. He talked from his heart to the large group of business and professional men who expressed great pleasure in his opening remarks to the citizens of Canyon.

"You and I are going to live together for a number of years," stated Dr. Cornette. He highly praised the spirit of the people of the Panhandle and expressed great appreciation for the opportunity of living and working with the people of this section.

Dr. Cornette described himself as a simple, straight forward man, who "Says what I mean; and mean what I say." He loves simple things. His avocation is hunting and fishing, which he does with his three sons.

The speaker paid high tribute to Dr. J. A. Hill. "The college has a good name, and has accomplished a good job." He was greatly impressed with the interest of citizens throughout this area as shown by the building of the museum. "I like to have such men as you at my back when in a tight place," stated the speaker.

Dr. Cornette told of his abiding faith in Christianity, and urged that youth be indoctrinated with the idea that every man has a soul.

As an illustration of Democracy, Dr. Cornette stated that he wanted his boys to grow up to be given the opportunity of his choice. This was not true under other forms of government.

Mr. Cornette expressed the hope that the people of the community would stand by him as they have worked for the college in the past.

Visiting Rotarians were: R. Earl O'Keefe, president of the Amarillo Rotary Club, John McCarty, Bob Foster, Roy Boger, E. E. Nichols, Bob Crudgington, Dan Thomsen, S. B. Whittenburg, all of Amarillo; J. M. French and J. A. Ricketts of Hereford.

Mr. O'Keefe joined with the people of Canyon in welcoming Dr. Cornette to West Texas State and pledged the full cooperation of Amarillo in the future program of the college.

Majority of Business Firms Close Sept. 1

Next Monday will be Labor Day.

A petition was circulated Tuesday for the purpose of closing in Canyon for the day. All of the larger towns and cities in the nation observe Labor Day, and many of the smaller towns of the Panhandle are beginning to observe the day as a holiday.

According to the poll taken this week, it is indicated that a majority of the business firms of Canyon will observe the day.

Thirty business firms indicated that they will observe the Labor Day holiday; nine indicated that they would not observe the day; and nine stated that they did not know at the time the petition was circulated whether or not they would close for the day.

As the situation now stands, it is certain that a large part of the business section of Canyon will observe Labor Day in order to give clerks in the business houses a holiday.

Bowman Is Improving No. 87 Highway

J. E. Bowman, owner of Bowman Nursery on the highway between Canyon and Amarillo, is doing more to beautify the highway than any single individual in the Panhandle.

Mr. Bowman owns land on the east side of Highway 87 and has planted trees at regular intervals for about two miles. The trees have been given excellent care, and have made a splendid growth. In addition to this, Mr. Bowman is making his nursery very attractive to the traveler.

Mr. Bowman has now embarked on another project which will further beautify the highway. He has bought a tract of land south of the Clarence Willmering place near Amarillo. A large service station, with attractive tourist courts is being built adjoining the Willmering place.

Mr. Bowman will add another section of his Nursery, adapted especially to roses and pot plants. Adjoining this he has contracted for the construction of eight new homes. These homes will be large and very attractive in design, with ample ground for beautification.

Mr. Bowman is enthusiastic over the program to beautify highways. He would like to see trees planted on each side of the highway all of the way between Canyon and Amarillo. He is of the opinion that tourists all over the nation would marvel at such a program and be attracted by "the highway lined with beautiful trees." Mr. Bowman believes that Canyon and Amarillo should join in the project and see to it that such a program was made effective.

THE ROAD BOND ELECTION

It is strictly up to the people of Randall county as to whether they wish to vote bonds for the purpose of building 100 miles of farm-to-market roads in the county. If the taxpayers wish to foot the bill, they will go to the polls on Sept. 27 and vote in favor of the $750,000 bond issue.

The question of bonded debts is always a ticklish one for the voters to decide. If the bond issue was for a new court house or school house or other type of permanent improvement, there would be nothing imaginary about the bond issue.

The question of public roads is another type of public debt. So far the State of Texas has taken over the payment of practically all of the bonds which were voted for the highway running from Canyon to Amarillo, Happy and the west county line. The county still owes this debt, but the State is assuming the payments as they fall due.

The State and federal government built the highway to Palo Duro Park; and the farm-to-market roads in Precincts Nos. 3 and 4.

The legislature failed to pass appropriations which would make possible a large scale farm-to-market road construction in Texas.

The State Highway Department has designated a farm-to-market road running from Umbarger south to the county line. No work has been started on this road, and with the lack of appropriation, it is not indicated when construction will start. However, we may assume that this road will be built; when, no one knows.

There is the feeling that should Randall county show a progressive spirit in starting its own system of farm-to-market roads that the State and federal government would step in and assume this debt. This may or may not be true, as the farm-to-market movement is new and has not received sufficient legislative support to warrant a wide program. Since paved roads wear out and have need for constant repair, The News hopes that if the voters approve the bond issue that the Commissioners Court will follow the advice of the State Highway Department and build these roads according to state specifications. In this event, the state will be more likely to assume the debt.

If the bonds are approved, it does not mean that Randall county would rush out and start construction on 100 miles of roads. We are of the opinion that the Commissioners will proceed with caution in adopting plans and completing construction. At any rate, we are of the opinion that the Commissioners Court can build roads more economically than is done by the State Highway Department. Maybe the state does a little better job, but we doubt it.

The News believes that the Randall County Farm Bureau has done a fine job in carefully working out details and specifying the roads which are to be built. There will be no doubt in the minds of the voters as to the roads which will be hard surfaced. The plan calls for connecting present highways and making a network of roads for Randall county. It is always impossible and impracticable to try to build paved highways by the homes of every prominent taxpayer, such as was the case back in the good old days when the paving program started. At least, every farmer will be assured of being within easy distance of a paved road, even if the road as proposed does not go by his home.

The News has tried to give a complete analysis of the road bond issue. The final verdict will be in the hands of the voters on Sept. 27. We hope that each and every voter of Randall county will carefully consider all of the issues involved in the proposed bond issue and will not jump at conclusions without carefully weighing the facts.

Several months ago we read that scientists predicted a return of drought and another period of dust bowl. This time the drought extends not only over the Plains of Texas, but the major part of West Texas.

There is considerable discussion down Texas way about Senator James Taylor accepting a position with the Texas Manufacturers Association. His term in the Senate runs until 1950. We hear the old, old cry "No man can serve two masters." The fact that the State of Texas pays members of the legislature only $600, plus transportation, every two years does not indicate that the member must sit idly by and quickly starve to death while not on the State's payroll at $10 per day, while the legislature is in session. Neither does the "wolf, wolf" cry indicate that the manufacturing business is an evil within the state and that those engaged are trying to bleed the state for all they can. The fact that Senator Taylor was honest and told the people that he had accepted a position with the manufacturers indicates that he is not trying to deceive the people. As a matter of fact, practically every member of the Senate has been or is employed in some capacity to represent some big firm in the state. About 90% of the Senators are lawyers, and even lawyers eat between sessions. Personally we are not passing judgment on Senator Taylor; we leave that to the people of his district. But we cannot see how any Texan can blame a lawyer for accepting employment even from a big corporation. These firms buy brains, and not political influence.

We see the statement that if nine Texas Representatives in Congress and one in California had voted right on the veto of President Truman of the states' rights to public waters that it would not be necessary for Governor Jester to spend so much time trying to awaken the people to the fate which will surely be ours if the federal government steps in and violates the spirit of the constitution by stealing all oil interest and water installations along the oceans and the large bodies of water. These representatives are charged with looking more to the welfare of the Democratic party than to the interest of the people of the states which border on bodies of water. It is all right to have party loyalty, but when the question of the welfare of so many states is concerned, the representatives have an obligation far above that of upholding a Democratic President. Unless Congress passes another bill and gets it on the statutes, the federal government is going to grab billions of dollars of revenue from California, Texas and other states which have salt and fresh waters. It's time to be aroused.

The News has talked with a number of Canyon business men during the past week who are worried sick over present conditions. The men are the ones who have tried to hold their prices in line and not increase prices to the consumer. The result? They are not able to get in enough revenue to pay their help in comparison to the prices being paid like workers in other towns. They see their revenues decline until any profits that they might make have vanished. It is either the case of closing up shop or increasing prices. The News has been in this same boat for a long time. We have consistently held our advertising rates to pre-war prices and have not increased subscription prices. Yet the price of every commodity which goes into a newspaper are advancing by leaps. Where are we going to land? Don't ask us; that is the reason for all these gray hairs.

We are told that a world-wide commentator said the other day that after a few years we would look back on 1947 and wonder at the low prices which prevail as of today. We did not hear the statement, but reach the conclusion that the commentator referred to a spree of spending, with gross inflation. Such inflation will wipe out the great middle class of America, the salaried man who cannot have his pay adjusted every time that prices go up. This class is having a hard time to survive today. If inflation continues, the situation will get out of hand.

We see that CIO is demanding a Congressional investigation of the high cost of living. That is needless. All that CIO has to do is look at its own demands. Every increase in the price of labor granted to CIO means a boost in the cost of living. When labor goes up, prices go up. The ugly head of inflation shows up as prices spiral.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

LABOR DAY

SIXTY YEARS AGO, IN 1887, THE STATE OF OREGON PASSED A LAW DESIGNATING THE FIRST MONDAY IN SEPTEMBER AS LABOR DAY. SINCE THEN, IT HAS BECOME A LEGAL HOLIDAY IN EVERY STATE OF THE UNION—IN EVERY TERRITORY AND DEPENDENCY.

FOR MILLIONS OF AMERICANS, LABOR DAY MARKS THE END OF THE SUMMER'S ACTIVITIES AND THE BEGINNING OF A NEW SEASON OF ENDEAVOR—BUT BEYOND THAT, ITS SIGNIFICANCE LIES IN OUR RECOGNITION OF THE DIGNITY OF WORK AND THE OPPORTUNITY FOR PRODUCTIVE EFFORT AFFORDED THE PEOPLE OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Every wheat grower in the Panhandle will be affected by the decline in wheat quality, which has increased by importing breeds of wheat which are not acceptable to the millers. Every farmer should see to it that his seed wheat will produce good milling products, and that he talks to his neighbor, who may not be interested in the subject. This is not a one man's fight, or a one county's fight. It is the fight for survival of every farmer. When millers refuse to buy wheat, there is a hard row ahead for the farmers.

We see that Pappy is back in Texas. We don't know whether he will visit Canyon or not, but we hope that he does. Pappy is an interesting speaker. We hope that we shall get to hear what he has to say in advance of his campaign for re-election next year. Perhaps he will not stress the statement he made in Washington: "What this country needs is more ex-congressmen." Some folks in Texas are of the opinion that any one would do better in the Senate than Pappy.

President Truman indicates that there will be a surplus of about five billion dollars at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1948. He disagrees with the Republicans in the disposition of this surplus. The President wants to reduce the national debt and the Republicans want to reduce taxes. So long as people are throwing money to the seven winds, they should be taxed to reduce the debt.

British buying of chemicals for the first four months of 1947 cost the country $25,000,000, compared with $18,000,000 in a corresponding period before the war. The United States was the leading supplier, shipping chemicals valued at $7,600,000.

A fuel shortage in Canada has prompted the Government to restrict exports of petroleum products. A system of exporting licensing will ban shipments to many countries. Fuels affected by the order include automobile and aviation gasoline, antiknock compounds with a petroleum base, gas oil, most types of fuel oil, kerosene and virtually all other mineral oil products.

Ah, for the good old days!
The good old days when you got up at 5 a. m. in January with the tail of your night shirt flapping around your chilled ankles and built a fire. But first you had to shake down the stove.
For the benefit of the younger members of our audience, it should be explained that, when ashes accumulated, the stove wouldn't draw, so the stove had to be shaken down and it took so much energy that the house was almost shaken down, too.
Then came the task of setting fire to paper and shavings and kindling and coaxing a chunk of wood to burn. Of course there was a quicker way: a teacupful of kerosene could be used but this had a way of blowing the user through the roof.

Ah, the good old days! Did you ever take a bath in a wash-tub?
And the fireplace with the long fire—you roasted on one side and froze on the other.
But there is nothing finer than a fireplace with a long fire, provided the fireplace is also equipped with gas.

Guess you noticed where Fred Allen, Red Skelton and Bob Hope were faded off the air when they said something that a network vice president didn't like. Well, I'm on the air—in fact, have two programs a week, the newest one being at 12:15 noon each Tuesday over KFJZ, Fort Worth. I wish some vice president would fade me off the air; I need the publicity. Fred, Red and Bob don't.

I noticed a sign the other day, "Dirt for sale." I suppose it is "dirt cheap." Or has inflation raised the price there, too?

PATIENCE

Three little boys came into the antiquated drug store. One asked the ancient proprietor for 10c worth of moth-balls. He got the ladder, climbed to the top shelf with an empty bag. He tottered but came down safely with the bag full.
"Now, sonny, what do you want?" he asked the second lad.
"Ten cents worth of moth-balls."
The old man sighed and went through the same precarious labor all over again, except that before starting back from the top of the ladder he yelled down, "Does anybody else want 10c worth of moth-balls?" There was no answer.

After putting the ladder back in the corner he noticed the third little boy was still standing expectantly at the counter. So he asked, "What would you like, my little man?"
"Five cents worth of moth-balls," the boy chirped cheerily.

Prime Minister Attlee's economic troubles in Great Britain are not expected to lead to a coalition government that would turn over influential Cabinet posts to the Conservative Party. Many Conservative leaders are saying privately that things are in such a mess that they don't want to share in the responsibility. There is talk in London, completely unsupported, that the Laborites might decide on a general election to get a new mandate for carrying out the reforms they feel are necessary to cure Britain's many woes.

Japanese invasion currency still is generally accepted in the Dutch East Indies. Five currencies have been circulated in that area since the war began. But the Japanese money became so thoroughly distributed that it still is the dominant currency in many sections.

The cost of Britain's imports continues to rise. In May, the import price index increased 7 points to a total of 241 (1938 equals 100). Prices of British exports increased 4 points to a total of 225. In three months, import prices rose 15 points while prices rose only 10.

First Baptist Church Is Scene For Tolliver-Cooper Wedding Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. NEIL COOPER

In an impressive double-ring ceremony performed Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Barbara Ann Tolliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver, became the bride of Neil Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cooper, all of this city.

Dr. W. H. Tolliver, grandfather of the bride, and pastor of the Quindaro Baptist Church, Kansas City, Kans., officiated at the service. Assisting was Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the local Baptist Church.

While the guests assembled, Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played "Indian Love Call" by Friml, "Clair de Lune," Debussy, "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell, and "Salut d'Amour" Elgar. Miss Mary Lee Abbott of McLean sang, "I Love Thee," Greig, and "Because," D'Hardelot, as an introduction to the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional, and "I Love You Truly," Bond, formed a musical accompaniment for the exchange of vows. Decorative appointments at the altar featured arrangements of white gladioli and palms flanked by seven-branched candelabra bearing lighted tapers. The aisles, marked with candles and gladioli tied with ribbon bows, completed the theme.

Maid of honor was Miss Mabel Wesson of Saginaw, Mich., who wore a pink gown fashioned with lace bodice and a full net skirt. She wore a halo of matching net and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Master Jimmie Harden carried the rings on a white satin pillow. They were secured with garlands of frenched pink carnations.

Charles Cooper, nephew of the bridegroom, and Brian Tolliver, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

Hubert Waldrop of Canyon served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Clay Cooper, brother of the bridegroom, Donald P. Day of Flint, Mich., David Morris of Canyon and J. L. Harden of Plainview.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractive in a gown of white faille taffeta fashioned with a long fitted bodice, yoke of marquisette, outlined with matching circular ruffle, which was repeated in a peplum effect, long fitted sleeves which tapered to points at the wrists, and a full skirt terminating into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was edged with rose point lace. She carried a white Bible, topped with white orchids encircled with stephanotis and showered with white satin streamers.

The bride's mother was attired in a dress of aqua crepe with black accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of navy blue with white trim and navy accessories, and she also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was honored at a reception in the church parlor. The table was draped with a white Maderia cloth, and centered with an arrangement of pink and white blossoms and flanked by lighted tapers.

The tiered wedding cake, encircled by flowers, was served by Mrs. Faye Cannedy, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. W. H. Tolliver, grandmother of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Misses Mary Lee Cooper and LaNelle Phillips assisted in the serving. Mrs. Clay Cooper was seated at the guest book.

The couple will be at home at 1500 Second Avenue, after a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado. For traveling the bride wore a dress of rose beige crepe with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cooper was graduated from Arthur Hill High School, Saginaw, Mich., and attended Amarillo College and West Texas State College.

Mr. Cooper is a graduate of Canyon High School, and attended the University of Texas and is now a student at West Texas State College. He served with the Army Air Force for three years.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Allen and Max of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cooper and family of McLean; Miss Mary Lee Cooper of Belflower, Calif.; Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Tolliver of Kansas City, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Day of Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Hazel Wesson and Mabel of Saginaw, Mich.; Miss Mary Lee Abbott of McLean, and Miss Peggy Schlueter of Texico, N. M.

U. S. Financial assistance to China's Chiang Kai-shek is being discussed again in official circles. In China, friends of the Nationalist Government are predicting that Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's mission to China will lead to more support for the Nationalists in their fight against the Chinese Communists. Chiang is in dire need of military supplies. He would like to make a deal with the U. S. to get surplus Army equipment from Japan.

Apparently on orders from Moscow, the Russians have adopted a new policy of restricting their association with the Germans. Russian officers have been ordered to give up billets in German homes, and there is a new campaign against fraternization between Germans and Russian troops. The idea is to prevent the Russians from getting too "Western" in their ideas and their habits.

Estimates are being made that the Communists in France have lost at least a sixth of their following. The fact that they are not in the Government did not solidify their popular support, as their leaders expected it to do. Also, the favorable reaction to the Marshall Plan worked against them.

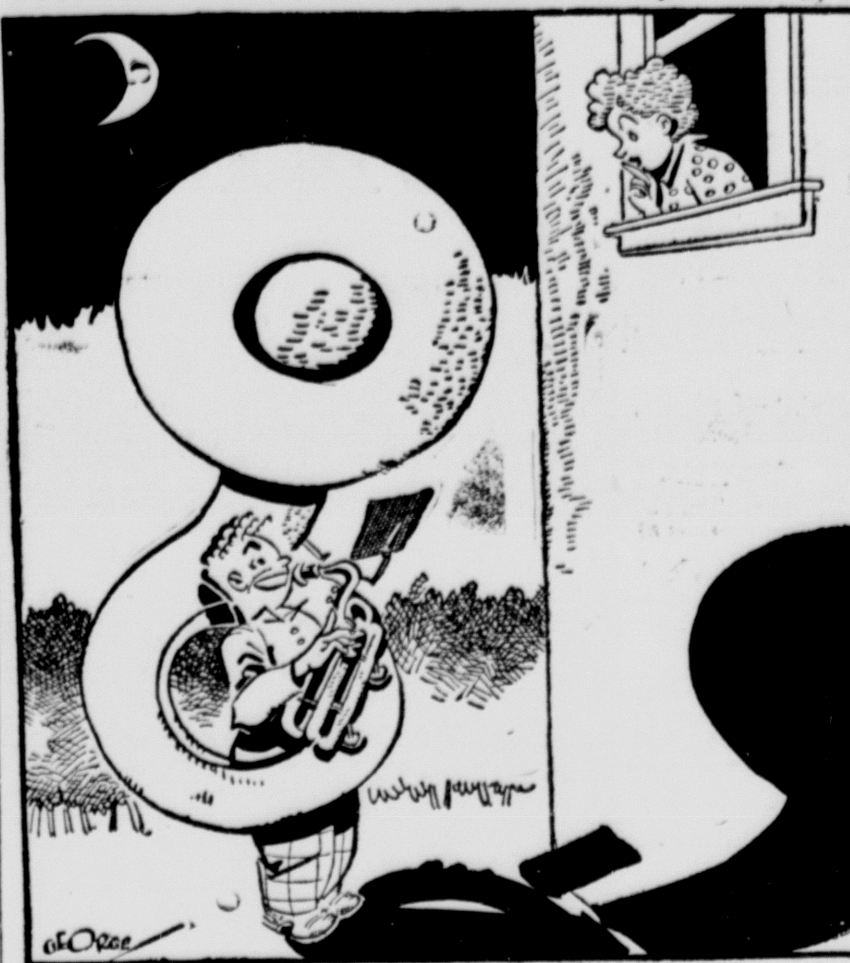

Latin - American specialists in Washington do not take too seriously the rumors that Cuba may decide to stay away from the inter-American conference. Reports have been circulated that the Cubans might boycott the meeting because of dissatisfaction with provisions of the Cuban Sugar Act passed by the U. S. Congress.

Argentina's President Peron is finding that his economic experts grossly over estimated the country's likely profits from exports and imports this year. Earnings are not close to expectations. The trouble is that several countries, now running short of money, are unwilling to pay the Buenos Aires prices for the food they need.

Perhaps business is burdened with excess prophets.

Brazil's invitation to U. S. Treasury Secretary John Snyder to make a "social visit" to that country was inspired partly by the Brazilian Government's desire to renew its currency stabilization agreement with the United States. The agreement expired July 15, and Washington has been hesitant about renewing it.

A crack-up between Russia and the Western powers in the United Nations would not be a surprise to many diplomats. One theory, frequently discussed in private, is that the U. S. Congress may become so impatient with Russia's actions that it will force the issue early next year.

Despite the propaganda boasting of the feats of the "youth brigades" that have been busy rebuilding Yugoslavia's railroads, the actual work accomplished has been disappointing to Marshal Tito. Construction has been so shoddy that some of the bridges collapsed soon after they were opened to traffic.

Those who thought Miguel Miranda was losing out when he resigned the presidency of Argentina's Central Bank are finding out otherwise. Argentina's hard bargainer in world markets gave up the bank title, but he kept behind the scenes control. At the same time, he has gained Cabinet status in the Government.

Argentina's War Ministry plans to build a truck factory with a capacity of 10,000 units a year. The plant, which will be financed by Government and private capital, will use Argentine steel. It will be convertible to the production of tank bodies and amphibious tractors.

Russia wants 4,000 prefabricated houses produced in her zone of Germany for shipment to the Soviet Union this year. The houses are to be equipped with central heating, sanitation facilities and electric wiring. Assembly line construction is planned.

In the matter of a half-billion-dollar touch, the credit manager has looked into China's rating and can't imagine how she got on the books in the first place.

How can the people help being extravagant with thousands of new ways of spending money and only one way of saving it?

George Marshall regards the situation in Greece as of top importance just now. In fact, it was from a State Department policy dispatch, cabled to all U. S. embassies abroad, that Herschel Johnson got the text for his U. N. blast at the Russians. Selection of Johnson to do the plain talking was deliberate on the part of Washington. It is the feeling of the people around Marshall that Johnson is more willing than Warren Austin, top American delegate at the U. N., to talk rough when necessary.

Canada's export trade totaled $1,328,500,000 in the first six months of this year, 25 per cent higher than in the same period of 1946 and three and a half times as high as in the first six months of 1938. The total for June—$272,700,000—set a new monthly record for peacetime. In the January-June period this year, exports to the U. S. amounted to $482,006,000, as against $396,442,000 in the first six months of 1946, and shipments to Great Britain reached $352,639,000 as against $266,080,000.

One reason the discovery that Poland doesn't need relief food came as a surprise to many countries is this: Polish agricultural statistics are so incomplete and inaccurate that even the Warsaw Government had no exact information on what the country's farms could be expected to produce. It took independent surveys to show the real situation.

DISCS OVER AMERICA

The most amazing event in history is the appearance of unexplained discs over America. Their explanation is necessary to every Man and Woman in this country.

The amazing explanation involves not only the discs alone . . . but it answers the greatest and most potent of mysteries.

Why do anthropoid apes sit spell-bound before two crossed sticks?

Why do children draw an arc one third of the way up a sheet of paper when confronted with the idea of death?

What is the meaning of the twenty-eight fires that struck at the exact center of the American population?

The answer to these questions is the most important information you have ever received. Send one dollar now for your copy of the survey, "Discs Over America." Mail to: des Arc Foundation, Lake Forest, Ill. 26t2

ONE WAS LOST

The shepherd of this flock has gone away. He's seeking the ONE sheep that has gone astray. America is becoming alarmed over the sheep that is out of the fold. This land was founded upon the right to free worship. But there are so many now who don't worship at all.

Lukewarm church people have allowed the worldly to criticize churches, advertise vice, ostracize preachers, minimize righteousness and practically idolize the ungodly. Many fathers and mothers have grown indifferent about the religious teaching of their children. They SEND them to Sunday school (if they go at all) and are not much interested in whether they attend church. As parents they should lead their children to all portions of the churches' rounded program. Go out after those who have no church home, those who have wandered. Seek out that one which is lost. Be sure to take your youngsters to church school and remain for all services next Sunday . . . Your Pastor expects you.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

Look! QUICK-ON QUICK-OFF

If you pride yourself on having all the up to date answers on modern farming you should be familiar with the many advantages of MM Quick-On—Quick-Off cultivator and planting attachments.

Built to fit MM Universal tractors, MM cultivators are made in two, four and six row sizes. To convert from two to four row the outside frames and gangs are simply bolted on. Adjustment up to 44 inches for wide row spacing is made by merely loosening the clamps and sliding the gangs along the square frame bars. The Quick-On—Quick-Off cultivators have high clearance and are available with hand or power lift and a choice of sweeps, shovels or spring tooth attachments, for both front and rear gangs.

With the cultivator mounted near the front wheels, and Visionlined Design of MM tractors the operator has full operating visibility and is seated comfortably low to the rear of drive wheels for added SAFETY.

For precision planting the cultivator may be changed over to a drill planter by the removal of the cultivator shanks and mounting the planting attachments on the cultivator frame.

When the job is finished, the tractor can at once be used for other jobs, since Quick-On—Quick-Off tools are easily removed. MM offers a complete line of these tools for more profitable farming in any territory. Many parts of MM Quick-On—Quick-Off Units are interchangeable, saving you money because you buy less equipment to handle all the jobs.

MM Dealers everywhere are now embarked on a new program of specialized sales and service of MM Modern Machinery.

A four year plan for Saudi Arabia has been projected by the Government, to be financed through the income from royalties on U. S. oil concessions. Cost of all internal projects will total $270,000,000. Projected improvements include the construction of new port facilities on the Persian Gulf, a railway, 1,200 miles of highway, electrification of six communities and the building of water supply systems. Some airports also are planned.

Pessimism over the situation inside Greece is more acute now than at any time since World War II ended. The initial shot in the arm came with President Truman's announcement of U. S. aid for the country has worn off. Repressive measures of the Government are forcing non-Communist liberals into active opposition to the Government and strengthening the hand of the rebels.

Motion picture theaters in Sweden last year showed 263 new films, of which more than half were produced in the U. S. The 229 imported movies came from 11 countries. The U. S. Provided 168. Twenty-five came from Britain and 19 from France. Russia sent only 5, compared with 12 in 1945, and Germany only 1, compared with 28 in 1942.

NOTICE OF ROAD BOND ELECTION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF RANDALL.

TO the resident qualified property taxpayers voters of Randall County, Texas, who own taxable property within said county and who have duly rendered the same for taxation:

TAKE NOTICE that an election will be held within and throughout Randall County, Texas, on the 27th day of September, 1947, the same being the fourth Saturday in September, 1947, on the proposition and at the places more particularly set forth in the "ORDER AND NOTICE OF ELECTION", which was passed by the Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, on the 18th day of August, 1947, which order is as follows:

Order and Notice of Bond Election The State of Texas, County of Randall, In the Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas.

Be it remembered that on the 18th day of August, 1947, the Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, convened in special session at the regular meeting place thereof in the Courthouse in Canyon, Texas, with the following members present, viz:

A. H. Hunt, County Judge and Presiding Officer
L. S. Johnston, Commissioner Precinct No. 1
Clarence Beckman, Commissioner Precinct No. 2
D. S. Hill, Commissioner Precinct No. 3
T. H. Lair, County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of the Commissioners' Court and with the following absent: A. J. Koch, Commissioner Precinct No. 4 constituting a quorum, whereupon the following, among other proceedings, were had, to-wit:

There came on to be heard and considered by the Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, the petition submitted by A. E. Wise and 104 other qualified resident property tax-paying voters of Randall County, Texas, who own taxable property within said county and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, requesting that an election be ordered by the Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, to determine whether or not the bonds of said County shall be issued in the amount of Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand and no-100 Dollars ($750,000.00), bearing interest at a rate of not exceeding three per centum (3%) per annum from date and maturing serially at such times and in such amounts as may be deemed most expedient by the Commissioners' Court over a period of not exceeding thirty (30) years from their date, in conformity with the Constitution and Statutes of the State of Texas, particularly Section 52, Article 3, of the Constitution and Chapter 16, of the Acts of the First Called Session of the Thirty-ninth Legislature in 1926, as amended, for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, in Randall County, Texas, and, whether or not ad valorem taxes shall be levied on all taxable property within Randall County, Texas, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity; and

It appearing affirmatively to the Court that said petition is signed by more than fifty of the resident qualified property taxpayers voters of said County, who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation and are otherwise in conformity with the Constitution and Laws of the State of Texas; and that therefore such petition should be granted and said election should be ordered as requested; and

It further appearing affirmatively to the Court that the amount of bonds proposed to be issued under the request contained in such petition, in addition to all other bonds now outstanding and issued under Article 3, Section 52 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, will not exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of real property of said County and that the 27th day of September, 1947, is not less than thirty days from the date of this order and is the proper time for holding said election:

Martha Hammond and Bernard Warren Wedding Rites Read in Impressive Church Ceremony

MRS. BERNARD B. WARREN

One of the outstanding late summer weddings was the marriage of Martha Hannah Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hammond to Bernard Bryce Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren, Tuesday evening, August 26, at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the Baptist Church read the impressive double ring service. Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played a prelude of nuptial selections including "Because" by Guy d-Hardelot, "Cathlene Nuptial" by Dubois, "Traumeri" by Schumann, and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy.

Introducing the ceremony Miss Mary Lee Abbott of McLean sang "Yours Is My Heart Alone" by Victor Hubert and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacob Bond. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional and "The Lord's Prayer" by Mal-lotte made a soft musical accompaniment for the reading of the marriage rites.

At the altar was a beautifully decorated arch covered with white asters and placements of large bouquets of asters, all spaced before a background of palms. The aisles were lighted with candles placed atop flower twined pedestals which were tied at the foot with large white satin bows. Woodwardia fronds in each of the windows were centered with single white cathedral candles. Garlands of the same greenery were used on the balcony rails. Seven-branched candelabra bearing white tapers lighted the altar.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, was lovely in a gown of lustrous white satin, fashioned with a sheer yoke of illusion which was edged with embroidery. This embroidery was repeated on the front panel of the molded bodice and the voluminous skirt which flowed into a long train. The satin sleeves tapered into points over her hands. Her veil of imported silk illusion cascaded from a coronet of orange blossoms to the full length of the train. The bride's bouquet was made of four white orchids, orchid throats and stephanotis beautifully combined with white maline and streamers of white satin ribbon.

Miss Beulah Hammond attending her sister as maid-of-honor, wore a pastel blue crepe gown and carried an arm bouquet of yellow gardenias. Miss Martha Jean Dowd, wearing a gown of pastel yellow crepe and carrying an arm bouquet of blue gardenias; Mrs. Meredith Warren, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wearing a gown of pastel green crepe and carrying an arm bouquet of pink gardenias; Miss Polly Winstead wearing a gown of pastel orchid crepe and carrying an arm bouquet of rose fuchsia gardenias; and Mrs. George Blackwell wearing a gown of pastel pink crepe and carrying a bouquet of orchid gardenias attended the bride as bridesmaids. All the gowns of the attendants were fashioned after the bride's gown with a sheer yoke of net. Each gown had a molded bodice and full skirt identical to the bride's. The gowns had cap sleeves and each girl wore evening gloves made of the crepe of her dress. Each wore a one strand pearl necklace and silver slippers. Each headdress was a floral hat made of gardenias matching her arm bouquet in color.

Mrs. Hammond, mother of the bride, wore a sky blue crepe dinner gown with sequin trim and Mrs. Warren, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dusty rose crepe dinner gown with sequin trim. Each had a white orchid corsage.

Meredith Warren was his brother's best man. Ushers were Ernest Sykes, K. E. Frieze, Roy Cheatham of Amarillo, and Bill Griggs of Amarillo.

The spacious Warren home, 2011 Third Avenue was the scene of the reception honoring the bridal party immediately following the ceremony. Arrangements of white and pink gardenias were used throughout the entertainment rooms. Guests were served punch with cake from the three tiered pink and white wedding cake encircled with pink gardenias.

Miss Carolyn Black presided at the guest book. Misses Norma Lantz and Mary Lee Abbott presided at the beautifully decorated table covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and lighted by white candles in prism crystal candelabra. Miss Anita Davis furnished a background of soft music at the piano.

Mrs. Warren graduated from Canyon High School and West Texas State College, where she was a major in Home Economics. She was a member of Kappa Omicron Phi, Home Economics National Honor Society. Mr. Warren received his high school diploma at West Texas High School and his B. B. degree with a major in Business Administration from West Texas State College. While in college he was a member of Tri Tau Fraternity. He is manager of Griggs-Warren Funeral Home and is associated with his father and brother in Warren's department store.

The couple is to be at home at 2004 Second Avenue after a two weeks' wedding trip to the west coast. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue, light wool, fall suit with navy and white crepe blouse and navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Walter Kiernan reports that Gov. Dewey tested the echoes in Grand Canyon. He murmured, "We want Dewey," and as the words came back a thousand times, he smiled and said, "Gentlemen, I am in your hands."

A check-up of United States currency in Canada is being made by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police as part of the Government's campaign to overcome the dollar shortage. The check was ordered to make sure that all businesses handling such funds are observing regulations for control of foreign exchange. The regulations require that all U. S. dollars received from tourists, except for certain limited amounts, be turned into banks for use in paying for imports from the United States.

Charges for tourist cards are to be abolished in Mexico to encourage visitors from abroad. The Government also is planning to simplify customs procedures. New customs and tourist offices are to be set up in Monterrey, Mexico and San Antonio, Texas, to help do away with the usual delays.

Health Complications Start at Age Of Forty Years

From a health standpoint, life after forty generally begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

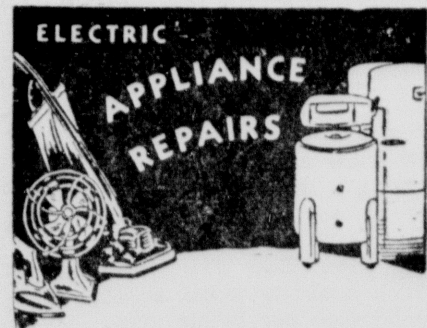

"Medical care in middle life has two important phases," Dr. Cox asserts. "The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness, since this may mean the difference between complete recovery and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important."

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow their physician's advice arising from them, tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact according to the State Health Officer, that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later, they often cause chronic invalidism or even death.

About 200,000 tourists from other lands are expected in Norway this year. This would be 10,000 more than last year but 70,000 fewer than in the record year of 1938. About half the visitors are from Sweden and the next largest number from Denmark.

Reason why friction between Moscow and Washington is mounting is the Russian hope, and the American fear, that Greece will go Communist within three months. U. S. officials in Athens advise Washington that the chances for keeping the Greek Government out of Communist hands are no better than 50-50. Critical time is expected to be early November.

Actually, the atomic bomb is not as much of a worry to Soviet leaders as they make out. Partly this is because they do not really expect the U. S. to use the bomb aggressively. But in addition, Messrs. Stalin and Molotov believe they have a weapon just as good—the Communist technique of political and economic infiltration in countries marked for conquest.

Tells of Huge Research Base

Navy Has California Plant For Development of New War Weapons.

INYO KERN, CALIF.—One of the first targets an enemy power planning to A-bomb the United States might select would be the naval research center at Inyo Kern for development of new naval weapons.

This is not a military secret. Any potentially hostile nation knows the importance of this experimental station in development of new weapons. Strangely enough, most Americans who know of it think of it mainly as a place where the navy tests rockets.

Capt. James B. Sykes, commanding officer of the research center, doesn't believe this is good psychology. As a result, he has disclosed for the first time the full scheme of operations at Inyo Kern.

Public Now May Know.
"During the war a high classification of secrecy was necessary," says Captain Sykes. "But the war is over. The public is entitled to know as much as we can tell them about Inyo Kern—without violating the secrecy necessarily shrouding some of our projects."

The installation already has cost more than 100 million dollars, and has a payroll of more than one million dollars a month.

About the size of the state of Rhode Island, the station covers more than 1,000 square miles. Nearly 12,000 persons, naval and civilian workers and their families, live on the base.

Several others have to live in trailer areas outside the station because of an acute housing shortage. A good-sized city has sprung up among the cactus and sagebrush 15 miles off the highway, since 1943.

Cover Many Things.
Rocket research is only a part of the station's work. Here also are developed:

New and secret high-power explosives for warheads.

Radio electronic systems for controlling the projection from aircraft of rockets, bombs, gun projectiles and torpedoes. This is the key to aerial warfare of the future. Exactly what is being done cannot be fully told, but several hundred scientists, including some of the world's best, either live on the base or work in close association.

Guided missiles. Captain Sykes says, "We are developing weapons potentially far superior to the German V-2 bomb. Eventually our new ram-jet should have better control and carry a heavier payload."

The ram-jet's advantage is in its ability to ram air through its nose under compression, thus eliminating the necessity of carrying oxygen inside the weapon, as in the V-2.

"The principle of the V-2," says Captain Sykes, "is as stupid as the idea of a transcontinental bus loading up at the start with all the fuel necessary for the entire trip."

J. S. Intends to Free Land Along the Alaskan Highway

WASHINGTON.—The interior department is preparing to open land along the Alaskan highway to settlement.

The war department has relinquished the strip of land through Alaska upon which it built the road, thus returning the land to interior department jurisdiction.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior Warne said the department is working on plans for establishment of communities along the road, which now is so thinly settled as to be unsuitable for tourist use.

The army withdrew from public use a land route 20 miles wide upon which to build the road.

Later the width of the strip was reduced to five miles. The most recent action returns all of the land to the interior department.

The interior department is expected to make attractive sites in Alaska available to builders of hotels, stores, garages and other properties.

The road extends for 1,520 miles from Dawson Creek, B. C., to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Petrified Forests Found on Bottom of Lake Washington

SEATTLE.—Officials of the coast and geodetic survey report three submarine petrified forests discovered on the bottom of Lake Washington here.

Forming a real menace to navigation, the trees, turned to stone by centuries of immersion, at one time jutted up from the bottom to within a few feet of the surface.

Department of commerce surveyors got the job of "topping" the trees in a novel underwater logging operation. Power boats with drag lines snapped off the rocky snags 15 to 20 feet below the surface.

SAN JOSE, CALIF.—William Herwig took a $6,000 bath, he told police.

While he washed the $6,000 vanished from the safe, he said.

SHORT STORY

No Need For Words

By

LILA LENNON

IT HAD been a silly quarrel, really. Peg reflected. The quarrel had started from such an insignificant thing as her new hair-do.

Now, here she was sitting alone, the slam of the front door still ringing in her ears.

Bob had gone out alone, and on a Thursday night, too. That was what really hurt most, because Thursday nights were such special nights. The stores were all open, and after the dishes were done, Bob and Peg always went window shopping.

There never was a lot of money to spend. Sometimes they did buy one or two little things, and it was always such fun!

Peg thought for a moment about how Bob used to tuck her hand under his arm and say, "Some day, honey, I'll give you all the things you want." And she had always said:

"But I have what I really want . . . you. And, what we share has no price, it can't be measured in terms of dollars and cents!"

It was true, Peg reflected. You can't put a price on the magic of contentment and love and understanding.

Understanding! It was something of a shock to discover that Bob could be so critical . . . and so stubborn. And, he hadn't understood, at all.

Bob had been tired . . . but even so, all she had done was to say, "You haven't even noticed my new hair-do!"

HE SAID grumpily, "I don't know why you spent all afternoon getting that done, you look like you're getting ready to take a bath!"

Tears smarted Peg's eyes. Her words rushed out. "You'd look better with a hair-cut yourself!"

"I know it," Bob admitted, "but I hurried home so we could go shopping."

There seemed to be a broom handle stiffening in Peg's back. "I don't think I care to go shopping tonight," she answered slowly.

When the dishes were done, Bob turned to her. "Are you ready?"

Peg answered stubbornly, "I'm not going."

Bob had been equally as stubborn, though. "I won't beg you to come, Peg. I'll go alone." And he had gone, just like that.

Darkness crept over the room, but Peg didn't turn on a light. She dropped her head on her arms and remembered other Thursday nights. Bob, helping her to choose a slip, saying critically, "That looks too big for you, you're so little." Bob, being amused . . . "Those little pink things with the bows are sure cute!"

BUT, tonight, he was alone . . . he had wanted it that way . . . what was he thinking? Did he feel the same loneliness?

Silly? No, Peg reflected, maybe it wasn't silly, after all. Maybe it was really very important. Maybe the little things were, after all.

"You'd look better with a hair-cut yourself," Peg had said.

Important to real understanding. Maybe . . . it was up to her, too, to be as Bob wanted her to be.

Quickly, her hair came tumbling down. When Bob came home she would say the things that were in her heart; he'd understand.

The sound of the door opening quietly, reached her. "Peg?" Bob called.

"Here," she said softly.

He walked over to the lounge. "Why are you sitting in the dark? I was worried, I thought . . . want a light?"

"No," she answered quietly.

Bob cleared his throat. "Here . . . I brought you a little present." He thrust the small package into her hands. "Wait a minute, I'll turn on the light."

The light shone down on her head as Peg undid the folds of tissue. It made little colored beams dance up from the two tiny jeweled combs.

She turned to Bob, and all the things she wanted to say rushed to her lips, but Bob was staring at her hair tumbling to her shoulders. Then he took her in his arms and held her tight. There was no need for words.

Christian Church To Hold Special Meeting Sunday

A congregational meeting will be held at the First Christian Church at 11 o'clock, Sunday, August 31. Purpose of the session will be to hold an open forum discussion concerning future plans of the church.

All members and friends of the church are urged to attend.

Marshall Planners, in session at Paris, are coming up with a bill for the U. S. that makes Washington estimates look like very small potatoes. Congressmen were troubled when Benjamin Cohen, speaking for the State Department some weeks ago, guessed that the Marshall Plan might cost the U. S. five or six billion dollars a year for three or four years. Total of European needs pouring into Paris adds up to many times that.

When Dwight Griswold's mission arrived in Greece, the American officials found more than a million dollars worth of UNRRA equipment scattered around on the docks. Among the supplies are $550,000 worth of tools that the Greek Army says it needs urgently. A $300,000 tire-recapping plant that reached Greece in December still isn't in operation.

U. S. diplomats in Washington shuddered when they learned that Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Minister, wanted to come over with the London delegation for the talks on increasing coal output in the Ruhr. It was feared that Bevin would insist on opening up the conference to issues on which the U. S. is not yet prepared to talk.

The conflict has not yet come out into the open, but French diplomats are combatting British desires to play a leading role on the Continent, especially through the Marshall Plan.

Another reason why U. S. officials quietly discouraged a visit from Ernest Bevin now has to do with Russia. It would give Moscow an easy opening to say that capitalistic America was using Socialist Bevin as a front for imperialistic schemes in Western Europe.

One thing that bothers the Paris experts on the Marshall Plan is the lack of guidance from Washington on American intentions. The Europeans would deeply appreciate a whispered hint or two as to what America really expects Europe to do for herself.

Unlike General of the Army George C. Marshall, when he was stationed in China, Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer has made no effort to get the views of China's Communists concerning Chinese recovery. Wedemeyer, making an appraisal for President Truman, is putting first attention on getting a comprehensive understanding of the situation in Chiang Kai-shek's part of China.

Conditions inside Greece are deteriorating at such a pace that embassies in Athens are being flooded with visa requests from Greek businessmen. Lately, on the pretext of arranging business trips abroad, wealthy Greeks have been asking permission of officials to take their families with them.

Where progress toward economic recovery is concerned, stalling rhymes with Stalin.

Elizabeth Daniel Becomes Bride of Walter J. Burgess

Miss Elizabeth Daniel, daughter of Mr. Carl Daniel of South Plains, and Walter J. Burgess, son of Mrs. P. B. Burgess of this city, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. J. R. Sharp, officiating.

Vows were exchanged before the altar decorated with white gladioli and fern and tall white tapers in floor candelabra. The aisle was illuminated by tapers encircled with white gladioli and tied to the pews with white satin bows.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Ava Jo Moreman at the organ for the processional and recessional. "Clair de Lune," Debussy, was played preceding the ceremony, and Mrs. Bryan McDonald sang, "Because," D'Hardelot, and "O Promise Me," DeKoven.

Charles and Bradford Beedy of South Plains lighted the candles.

Maid-of-honor was Mrs. H. C. Burks, Jr., of Plainview, who was attired in a floor length gown of pink and carried a nosegay of white gladioli. Carlene Daniel, sister of the bride, in yellow; and Myrtis Sargent of Flydada, in blue, attended as bridesmaids. They also carried nosegays of white blossoms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of white satin with lace yoke embroidered in seed pearls, and molded bodice with satin covered button trim at the back. The full skirt with bustle back terminated in a chapel train. Her veil of illusion cascaded from a halo of net, and she carried a bridal bouquet of pink rosebuds showered with white satin streamers.

A. B. Burgess served his brother as best man. Ushers were Bernard Shields of Miami and Newton Richardson.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Ted Reid, was attired in a frock of black with a corsage of pink gladioli, and the bridegroom's mother wore purple with a corsage of white gladioli.

Following the ceremony a reception was held honoring the bridal party in the home of Mrs. Roy Hunter, 1903 Fourth Avenue. The table was covered with a cloth of ecru lace and centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli flanked on either side with tall blue tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Ann Wofford presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. G. W. Lee, Jr., of Silvertown, cousin of the bride, served the wedding cake.

For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

After a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess will be at home in Canyon where both are enrolled as students at West Texas State College.

Death of Lone Man In Plane Is Puzzle

Flew Solo in a Ship Normally Manned by Ten.

SHREVEPORT, LA. — For personal reasons that may never be known, a staff sergeant took off, apparently alone, from Barksdale field in a Flying Fortress normally manned by a crew of 10 and crashed to a fiery death at Sibley, La.

Mystified field authorities hastily set up a board of inquiry to determine answers to the following puzzling questions:

What motivated the unauthorized flight by the sergeant, identified as Robert Farrar, 28, of Bastrop, La.?

How was he able to get the four engines revved up and otherwise put the big bomber in flight trim by himself?

How did the sergeant get his ship warmed up and take off without arousing guards, the officer on duty and the flight control tower? The first that anyone knew the fortress was missing was when an airplane pilot spotted the wreckage and notified the field.

How did the sergeant get the plane air-borne from an unlighted runway?

Barksdale authorities were so much in the dark on the whole affair that they first reported a B-17 was missing with a full crew aboard. But when only one body was recovered from the charred and crumpled wreckage, they counted off ranks at the field and found only the staff sergeant unaccounted for.

The army said that the sergeant was an overseas air force veteran and hence he probably knew a great deal about the operation of the B-17, the army's principal bombing weapon all during the European phase of the war.

Col. Victor H. Straham, commandant at Barksdale, said that no flight was authorized and none had been cleared by the control tower.

Although the sergeant was believed the only man aboard, an official Barksdale bulletin said: "Many men are on furlough and it is not possible to be absolutely certain others might not have been aboard."

Army Air Force Radar

Saves Planes, 240 Men

WASHINGTON. — Army air forces credits its highly prized instrument landing equipment with having saved 240 aircraft crewmen from an unwelcome—and perhaps costly—mass parachute jump over the Azores.

The men were aboard 12 planes, including nine B-29 Superfortresses, returning from a tour of Europe. They encountered unusually rough weather coming in to the Azores, which for a time had pilots debating whether to crash land in the ocean or take to parachutes and abandon millions of dollars worth of equipment.

AAF, however, put 100 per cent reliance on ground control approach radar equipment at Lajes field, the Azores, and all the planes were brought in safely.

Mexico Discloses Finding

Of Two Uranium Deposits

MEXICO CITY. — Discovery of two uranium deposits in Mexico has resulted in a recommendation that an atomic energy committee, similar to that of the United States, be formed, it was disclosed here.

The uranium deposits were discovered in the state of Chihuahua late in 1946 by an official group working under orders from the federal government.

One was near Zotolar, three miles from Rio Grande river and just southwest of Presidio, Tex. The second was near Place de Guadalupe, about 25 miles southwest of Presidio.

5,000 Youths Flee Russian

Zone to Escape Forced Toil

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — U. S. Constabulary, as well as German border police, all along the United States zone's eastern boundary were seriously concerned over the ever-increasing influx of persons crossing illegally from the Soviet zone.

More than 5,000 are estimated to have crossed already.

According to reports most of the escapees are young men—between 17 and 30 years old—all of whom declare they came to the U. S. zone to escape forced labor in uranium mines of Saxony or compulsory recruitment for the Russian air force.

Man Falls Beneath Train, Declares He's Not Injured

NEW YORK. — Horrified spectators watched a man tumble from a subway platform and disappear under a train approaching the station.

The train was brought to a halt. Police rushed in with heavy jacks and working at desperate speed started raising the car. Suddenly a puzzled face peered out from under the car and its owner asked:

"What's all the excitement? What's going on here?"

Identified as Edward Seagraves, 45, he was taken to a hospital for observation despite his protests that he was "all right."

Schools Study Saving of Soil

Conservation Made Part of Curriculum in Early Grades in Iowa.

DES MOINES, IOWA.—Soil conservation is now an integral part of the curriculum in Iowa's schools. In the classroom, on field trips and in special projects, a majority of the state's 48,000 rural school children are being taught "to see that civilization moves, survives or disappears with the fertility of the soil."

The first year of a three-year experimental program ended with the close of school this spring and Iowa students, for the first time, found 40 questions dealing with soil conservation and related problems on their state examination papers.

A committee of educators and soil conservationists worked together in drawing up the course outline. Miss Iva Green, state supervisor of rural education, said that it was hoped that a permanent program could be set up from a study of the three-year experimental plan.

Plenty to Observe.

There is no lack of opportunities for first to eighth grade children to see in the rolling, fertile farm lands that surround their little schools some of the things they have studied in the classroom.

They study soil samples to see their various compositions. They are taken to fields where erosion has slashed deep ditches or where water stands in fields not properly drained. They may observe a pasture which is overgrazed and filled with noxious weeds.

Various methods of preventing soil erosion are explained and the teacher, if the opportunity presents itself, may take her class to see a contour plowing contest or to look at grass plots sponsored by the soil conservation commission for stopping bad erosion.

The children are encouraged to question their parents and other farmers in the area about the history of their lands. In some classes pupils are asked to draw maps of the farms on which they live showing the running streams, dry creeks, gullies and ridges. They are asked to report on the conservation practices on their farms.

Wild Life Studies.

Studies of wild life, an important part of the course, help hold their interests. The Iowa State Conservation commission works closely with the schools, and runs in its monthly publication stories on some phase of wild life included in their studies.

Miss Green said there had been a "decided increase" in building of shelters and feeding stations for wild birds and game. She said she had received enthusiastic letters and poems from children describing wild life in their area.

How deterioration of the soil has a direct bearing on the welfare of the child is stressed early in the training course. The teaching outline suggests that teachers have their classes make lists of things which the pupils or their parents need in the home or on the farm.

Then they are shown how not only the money to buy such things but also the basic products from which they are made come from the soil.

Watch Export Restrictions

Lifted by Swiss Government

BERN, SWITZERLAND. — The Swiss government has lifted export restrictions on watches to the United States and other dollar-bloc countries.

The action came after one Swiss factory had closed down for four days in protest against what the factory management said was too low an export quota for this particular factory.

The government fixed export quotas more than three years ago on watches on the grounds that Swiss export to the United States were far above imports from that country, and that an unfavorable balance of trade, with attendant exchange difficulties, resulted. Now the trade current has reversed.

Meanwhile, Swiss watch manufacturers have complained that manufacturers in the United States were capturing the South American and South African markets and that unemployment threatened part of the Swiss watch industry.

Dr. C. O. Johnson Will Speak at Amarillo Sept. 1

DR. C. O. JOHNSON

Recently elected president of the Baptist World Alliance, Dr. C. O. Johnson of St. Louis will be principal speaker for an all-day stewardship rally at the First Baptist Church of Amarillo Monday, September 1.

One thousand church officers representing 78,827 Baptists in this area will attend the meeting to hear reports on the World Alliance meeting in Copenhagen and to plan their church financial programs to meet increasing world needs.

One of the most popular speakers for club and civic meetings as well as for the pulpits of the nation, Dr. Johnson has been termed "The Will Rogers of Baptist Circles." He is pastor of the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, recently returned from the World Alliance, will describe the relation of the Texas Baptist program to world evangelization.

To aid individual churches in financial planning, demonstrations and conferences led by outstanding laymen and ministers will be featured in the rally. A large evening mass meeting, especially for men unable to attend the day sessions, will have as speaker A. D. Foreman, Sr., prominent Houston business man and past president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

A vast expansion of the Soviet automobile industry is reported by Moscow to be under way. Ten new plants are being built, and new machinery is being installed in existing ones. The idea of a heart-to-heart talk between Joseph Stalin and Harry Truman, urged as a way to reduce friction between the U. S. and the U. S. S. R., now finds almost no support in official Washington. The State Department has made up its mind that a Truman-Stalin chat, however friendly, could not possibly remove the Kremlin's ingrained suspicions or change its policies.
